T
he Village of Suttons Bay is upwashed by the eastern shore of the Leelanau Peninsula. This tiny "coastal" village has been known for boaters since the 1800s, when its harbor was used as a port by schooners transporting lumber from the one to the emerging metropolises of mid-America.

Scholars, streetcar, and the railroad soon brought settlers and visitors to the area, and by 1880, the village had grown to be a lively place full of metropolises of mid-America.

Most of the shoreline of Suttons Bay is park land to enjoy. The Marina Park is an ideal spot for a family day at the beach. You'll find hiking trails at Battle Park in the wooded hills on the west side of the village, as well as the Leelanau Trail, south of the main trail for walking, biking and cross-country skiing. The shipwreck schooner, Island Seas, is docked on the south side of the Marina. To see the ship, you need to walk along the sidewalk. The Leelanau Peninsula offers wineries, golf, sport fishing, Great Lakes boating, cross country skiing, canoeing and two national parks — all a short drive away.

In our village there are no fast food franchises, nor is there a stoplight or a parking meter. To some ways life has changed. Today, when you travel up highway M-22, you will suddenly find out that you are on a state highway anymore, but if St. Joseph Street, our main street, with much of its 19th century architecture intact. We hope that you will savor the charms of this historic village by "slowing down" just a bit.
